School Newsletter : 2019-20 : I

From Principal's Desk

It is rightly said, "You will never have a completely bad day if you show kindness at least once". Being kind and compassionate towards others brings immense joy. Kindness gets us closer to God and renders inner peace. It is a quality that not everyone possesses.

Very few people in this world are blessed with this quality and their presence is a blessing for those around them. Kindness simply means being good to people around us. It can be offering them emotional support, helping them financially, boosting their morale or by simply being supportive to them.

When we help others with their tasks, it gives us a sense of accomplishment and joy. Kindness has been described differently in different religious books and literature in the past. However, they all echo the same thought.

All of them advocate that human beings must show kindness to other human beings as well as other creatures. We must be polite, friendly and helpful. While we should exhibit kindness we must not do it with the aim of getting anything in return. Kindness is a selfless act. As Lord Buddha said, "A generous heart, kind speech and a life of service and compassion are the things that renew humanity".

I congratulate the entire Editorial Team for the collating and editing all the school news in Term I in this newsletter.

Dr. Nicholas Correa

Editorial

Gratitude comes from the Latin word which means grace ,graciousness or gratefulness . This is a thankful appreciation for what an individual receives whether tangible and intangible.

Appreciation is gratitude in action. Its a supreme value to build and sustain human relationship. Invariably due to fast paced life, we fail to appreciate the beauty in small things. This in turn may lead us to look critically at minor issues. The ability to appreciate is a quality available to everyone, being thankful for life's treasure, grateful for the opportunity to begin the day. Gratitude helps people to acknowledge the goodness in their life.

In the process, people usually recognise that the source of that goodness lies at least partially outside themselves. As a result gratitude helps people to connect to something larger than themselves as individuals whether to other people nature or a higher power. Gandhiji would exhort satyagrahis to discover the truth and goodness in us, and share it with the world.

However this requires great courage and honesty as each one of us has to dwell deeply inside our self and follow the path diligently to search for truth. The seekers of truth will always succeed in life. So as students, seekers of truth let us allow the divine within us to guide us towards the truth.
